	Lay minister Stanley Schmidt talks with hosts Cliff and Nedda Horvath about the importance of youth having positive role models. He shares that, as a Jew, he was raised by a black woman for 22 years. She took him to church with her. Once he was so sick and tired of Christian church, that he faked the sinners prayer as a child, just so he could leave. Although he was still raised as a Jew, he was taught about Christ. His point of conversion came when he read a book by Thomas McKennon. Stanley stresses that what the Bible says is true--train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it. He adds that it is possible to associate closely with those of other ethnic groups and still keep one's own heritage in tact.

	Jim McClellan introduces Gary Larson, founder of Alpha Counseling and Lois Wildly, the nurse overseeing their Alpha Teen program. They provide a temporary home for young people suffering various kinds of abuse. In an environment of love and understanding, most of the youth recover. Intensive individual professional care is provided for them and their families. The home works with a detective agency in tracing runaways and rehabilitating them instead of their being turned over to the authorities for prosecution.

	Jim McClellan introduces Barry Bruce, youth minister who tells of his drastic move in his effort to reach youth gangs. Founder of "The Way Out" ministries, Barry could not reach gang members through conventional means like a church. So he and his wife moved into a rough neighborhood and eventually found doors open to them. Some gang youth are just primary-age children. They teach them about the danger of drugs, teen pregnancy, alcohol, and seek to guide them into setting goals that will motivate them to stay in school and get a good education.

YOUTH (cont'd)	Joy 0215-89 Graci Evans and Dorris Sanford, authors of Advanced Theology For Very Tiny Persons , discuss training very young kids about God with Jim McClellan. They point out that very early training gives the kids a solid foundation. With their other illustrated books, they teach kids to avoid drugs, sexual abuse, and other harmful things. They get childrens input about subjects corresponding with the children.	N	PA/O	02/15/89 6:30am	56:48
	Joy 0227-89 Jim McClellan interviews Clifford and Joyce Penner, authors of Gift Of Sex and Gift For All Ages . The Penners feel young people have been given no guidelines about sex, certainly not the concept that sex is for marriage and not before. Parents need to deal with their childrens sexuality, teach them the consequences of sex, and that control needs to be practiced. They mention the high rate of abortions, and high rate of unmarried teenage mothers could stem from sexual addictions, and wrong sexual teachings through the media.	N	PA/O	02/27/89 6:30am	56:48
	Joy 0302-89 Jim McClellan interviews Chuck McCoy and Willy Brown, founders and directors of "Cars For Christ," a youth program designed to teach young people how to rebuild cars, providing them with a future career while they learn about Christ. They are given an alternative to drugs and the streets. Their cars have won first place in their class sweepstakes across the country in competitions. They plan to extend the school to teach math and reading if they have the deficiency.	N	PA/O	03/02/89 6:30am	56:48

	Host Harold Calvin Ray moderates a panel discussion on homelessness and the reasons as well as the causes behind people living under these conditions. Panelists: Steve Burger, International President of Rescue Missions; Frank Jacobs, Executive Director of Miami Rescue Missions; Donald Bain, Street Minister and evangelist; Leroy Smith, formerly living on the streets. Frank points out how that now, with the high cost of living and housing, we find whole families living out on the streets. Leroy mentions that with the money he used to make on the streets as a hussler, he had a choice either to have a place to live and pay rent or support his drug habit. Unfortunately at that time, he chose to support his habit rather than to pay the price of having a place to call his home.

CRIME	Feedback #126 Carlton Pearson hosts a discussion on prison reform with special emphasis on criminals who are being released from prison back onto the streets with early parole. Panelists: Broward County Sherrif Nick Navarro; Lisa Barnes of Justice Fellowship; David Roberts, South Florida Area Director of Prison Fellowship Ministries. Sheriff Navarro explains that it is his duty, as a law enforcement officer, to provide in his city an atmosphere on the streets where those who are released from prison won't be tempted to do the same crime again. The host and panelists discussed "House Arrest" and the different aspects involved such as the cost in comparison to prison facilities and the effectiveness of the punishment on the criminal as opposed to being placed in prison. 	Feedback #127 Host Carlton Pearson discusses again in continuation with the previous program, part two of prison reform, this time taking a deeper look at this from the standpoint of the criminal, as well as the innocent, law-abiding citizen. Panelists: Broward County Sheriff Nick Navarro; Lisa Barnes of Justice Fellowship Ministries; David Roberts, South Florida Area Director of Prison Fellowship Ministries. Sheriff Navarro comments on how citizens feel forced to erect iron bars over their windows and doors in order to lock out the criminal element. He says that the good citizens are the ones in prison. He related a story of a family in such a house, where each of them burned to death when a fire broke out and they could not escape nor could anyone get in to save them in the very house they thought would protect them. He moderates a group of paelists: Judge miette Burnstein, Chief Judge 17th Judicial Circuit, Broward Couty; Cleveland Bell, Director of Riverside House; Ralph Bates, Acting Director for Department of Detention Broward Sheriff's Office. Bates mentions that the difference between a jail sentence and prison sentence is that a jail sentence is either for a pre-trail person or those sentenced to less than one year. He mentions they have never experienced such a degree of overcrowding before. The Judge speaks on guidelines they follow in their sentencing.

	Jim McCellan discusses ways to prevent crime with Steve Lewis, a police officer of Santa Ana assigned to the "Neighborhood Watch" program. Steve points out that neighborhood calls for police service have seen the crime rates go down as much as 50%. The housing tract residents begin to work together as a team, which then puts out a warning to would-be burglars. As few as four or five people can comprise a neighborhood watch program or up to an unlimited amount of people. Lewis comments that having Christ with him on his job gives him a sense of security.

She often comes in contact with users of the high addictive drug Crack Cocaine. He lived on the street, smoked crack cocaine and was in great fear of dying in his sin. Donald explains how Miami is a prime drug domain, but the whole U.S. is inundated by drugs, it's a nationwide problem we see all over and it hits every social level. Donald ends this part of the discussion by reiterating the fact that Jesus is greater than Crack! The organization works with victims and families of victims of drunk drivers; they seek to educate the public about their responsibility in demanding more accountability from the abusers of alcohol as well as the court system that dispenses the sentences. M.A.D.D. is now seeking to get a zero alcohol tolerance limit. They also favor adding taxes to sales to use for alcoholic education. They say the media in conjunction with breweries should take a lead in urging the public not to drive after drinking. They are also seeking to have the licenses pulled when people do drink and drive. It has also become the most dangerous addictive and lucrative drug on the street today. What complicates it is that it is easy and cheap to produce, but is astronomically high to the user. Crack houses have begun to dominate entire neighborhoods in large cities. Reverend Tony McCreary of New Life Church in North Philadelphia says the crack addict will do anything to get money for crack: steal, prostitution, whatever it takes. Dealers and abusers are getting younger, some as young as 10.	N	PA/O	04-13-89 3:00pm	59:30

EDUCATION/ SCHOOL	Joy 0608-89	N	PA/O	06-08-89 6:30am	56:48
	Eric Buehrer, Vice President of "Citizens for Excellence in Education," discusses the state of public education with Jim McClellan. Buehrer points out that such subjects as AIDS, homo-sexuality, frank sex education, including teaching the use of condoms--all contribute to the distruction of moral values. Burhrer urges parents to become active in the school system, the school board, and in various ways. They need to know what their children are being taught.

	Pat Robertson introduces a feature on the state of education in America. CBN Correspondent Cynthia Glaser reports on an aspect of the deplorable high illiteracy rate. She says there are 20 to 30 million adults who are functionally illiterate. This group increases by two million a year, made up primarily of non-English speaking immigrants, and then teenagers who drop out of school. Bill Johnston of the hudson Institute says at least 25% of the people coming into the work force are not ready for the high skill jobs being created. By the year 2000, three out of four jobs will require educational training beyond high school. Half of the welfare recipients cannot read well.

	Pat Robertson introduces a segment on a troubling aspect on education. Gary Bauer, former Under-Secretary of Education, tells of a sex education comic book, financed by the government which is to be distributed to school children. Compiled by the National Research Council, the book Aids, Sexual Behavior, and Intravenous Drug Use , at a

Paul Cameron reports that the book blames the church for the stigma being imposed on homosexuality.
	Joy 0623-89 Jim McClellan interviews Dr. Robert Peterson, superintendent of Schools for Orange County. They discuss problems in the school system. Jim questions how parents can have an influence on what is taught in the curriculum. Dr. Peterson discusses ways for parents to get involved and how to change things which they disagree with. The deterioration of the family structure, along with both parents working, have compounded problems of discipline and motivation for staying in school.	N	PA/O	06-23-89 6:30am	56:48
POLLUTION/ ENVIRONMENT	Joy 0501-89 Jim McClellan interviews Paul Vogelgesang, environmental scientist. During the mid 80's, Vogelgesang points out, there was a 16% decrease of smog when more conservation in gasoline consumption was observed. Smog is increasing now. The chemicals from exhaust react with sunlight and cause smog. He points out that acid rain is destroying plant life, the ozone layer had developed holes in it which allows sun rays to enter the earth's atmosphere and, as a result, the oceans move melting ice at both poles. He says Americans should stop using aerosol sprays which contribute to the destruction of the ozone layer. He expects the Government to begin tighter regulations of these areas as well as other environmental hazards.	N	PA/O	05-01-89 6:30am	56:48

POLLUTION/ ENVIRONMENT	Joy 0519-89 Jim McClellan interviews Rick Caporale, Senior Vice President of Thorne Environmental Company. They dicuss soil contamination which affects the water supply. Such contamination takes place imperceptibly. He points out that often soil is contaminated by hidden gas tanks and exposed chemicals left from previous owners of property. He urges everyone purchasing property to have a careful, historical study made of the property. Property owners can themselves conduct a historical research of their own property.
